Doncaster Mind Befriending Scheme

Aims

To reduce social isolation and improve the quality of life for people experiencing mental health difficulties.
To promote independence and build self-confidence.
To promote recovery and wellbeing.

We do this by:

Providing one to one support by Volunteer Befrienders
Providing opportunities for social contact by encouraging people to take part in local activities or groups.
Encouraging Peer support

Who is the Scheme for?

The Scheme is for anyone over 18 years who is experiencing mental health difficulties and would like the support of a “friend” to help reduce their isolation.

How is a referral made to the Scheme?

Referrals can be made by a range of professionals and support workers. Self referrals are also accepted.

What happens next?

When a referral is received the co-ordinators will arrange a home visit to assess suitability, explain how the service operates and answer any questions you may have.

The success of the Befriending Scheme is based on the compatibility of the volunteer and client not “first come, first served” so it is important for us to know what sort of interests and hobbies people have to determine a suitable match.

The volunteer will meet their ‘friend’ on a day and at a time that is mutually convenient every week and will spend a minimum of two hours, sometimes longer, depending on what sort of activity has been planned.

Volunteers

Our team of volunteers will have completed an Induction Training Programme and are CRB checked. They receive regular supervision and are encouraged to take part in extra training to enhance their role as a volunteer.
